Mange to be Eliminated

Dr. R. C. Duthie, of the Dominion Dept. of Agriculture addressed a small but representative meeting of farmers and stockmen at Bassano, on the question of Mange and the problem of its elimination.

In his opening remarks Dr. Duthie gave a brief synopsis of the nature of mange and data as to its entry into Canadian herds. He proved by illustration of the bug or parasite and by references in history dating back as far as Moses that mange was not a blood disease but of parasitic origin, and proved that it spreads by direct and also indirect contact.

To illustrate the reason of the appalling rapidity with which the disease spreads he stated that a pair of the bugs can reproduce 1,500,000 of their species within 90 days.

Pointing out the fact that it was a matter which affected stockmen themselves he said that in 1919 a loss of over $900,000.00 had been caused to shippers in the mange districts by reason of the mange restrictions and disease.

He spoke of the efforts which have been made in the past to cope with the disease and proved that they have been unavailing because of the lack of co-operation of farmers and stockmen and also because of the failure of many to send their entire herds to the dip at the same time.

Simultaneous double dipping carried out thoroughly with more regard for efficiency than speed, a proper disinfection of all corrals and barns at the same time as the dipping, together with the absolute co-operation of every stockman and farmer in the district should prevent this.

What Are We Doing To Help?

For once we are forced to agree with Geo. Headley when he charged the Prov. Government with its failure to take care of the sufferers in the drought-stricken areas.

It is appalling when we are told by unquestionable authorities that 99% of the people in these districts are living on the border line of actual starvation to then read of the government's failure to even alleviate their suffering and almost in the same paragraph learn that little opposition is expected to the proposed to increase the sessional indemnity from $1600.00 to $2500.00.

It is perhaps difficult for a Province to handle such matters as relief work, but it seems somewhat of an anachronism when it can cheerfully advance $60,000.00 for the furtherance of agriculture and bank at granting a nickel for the salvation of agriculturists.

Nevertheless when our neighbors in the drought areas are starving it is not sufficient to criticize the government for doing nothing, it is also necessary for us to dig in and help them ourselves.

The Women's Institute has already assisted very materially in the matter of sending clothing, but it is even more necessary now that donations of money be sent for relief.

Gum U. F. A. has made a good contribution of cash to the Relief fund but so far as we can learn the Bassano local has not yet taken the matter up. We would suggest that a fund be opened immediately for this most worthy cause and we feel confident that few of our people will refuse to contribute, even if it be only two bits, when they know the dire necessity of our neighbors on all sides.

JAS. JOHNSTON The Quality Store

Does Not Meet Approval Of U.S. Government

Paris, Aug. 1.—Wilson, the American ambassador, according to the Times, delivered to the foreign office a memorandum from President Wilson in which the President said he could not approve of Premier Lloyd George's proposed settlement of the Adriatic question, and that he advised settling the Jugoslav. The newspaper says that an identical memorandum was delivered to the British foreign office in London.

The Temps says President Wilson also told the British government the United States would find it impossible to continue in conference if the allies settled the Adriatic question without consulting the United States. New York—Frank L. Polk, acting secretary of state, has informed both the Italian government that the British and French foreign offices had been notified that President Wilson could not approve their plan for the settlement of the Adriatic question.

Switzerland Admitted To League of Nations

Membership Is Agreed Upon, With Certain Reservations

London.—The council of the League of Nations has concluded its sessions. The next meeting of the council was fixed for March 15 at Rome. On the motion of Mr. Matsu, the Japanese representative, the council agreed to place under the guarantee of the League the stipulations of the treaty between the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Switzerland. Under the auspices of the League, Switzerland and Poland on the other, shall as they affect persons belonging to racial religious and linguistic minorities, in Poland.

The council agreed to admit Switzerland as an original member of the League of Nations, accepting the Swiss government's conditions for maintaining Swiss neutrality and her refusal to participate in any military operations undertaken by either the allies or the League on behalf of the passage of foreign troops through Swiss territory, but agreeing to participate in any economic pressure applied by the League. Switzerland's admission to the League, however, is dependent upon a Swiss referendum confirming these conditions.

Sultans to Maintain His Court

Paris.—Agreement has been reached by the two courts to permit the Sultan to maintain his court at Constantinople, but Turkey must give guarantees, especially relative to the Dardanelles, and must not have an army, according to London advises quoting a statement by Premier Mil- fand.

Request Surrender of Hun Marine

London.—According to the Exchange Telegraph's Amsterdam correspondent, a message has been received there from Berlin announcing that the German government has sent to the German government requesting the surrender of the rest of Germany's mercantile marine.

It is a poor brand of charity that sticks to the fingers.

Paris Papers Comment On President Wilson

Decrees He Has Given Impression That He Is to Change His Course

Paris.—Although all Paris newspapers gave prominence to Washington's decision to object to nationalization of mines, the conference of ministers and producers convened by the federation of British industries passed a resolution against a state ownership of industry.

Sir Sam Nesson, vice-president of the Mining Association of Great Britain, said that the resolution, that the meaning of the resolution of miners for nationalization was an effort to seize the vital interests of the community and force out of the community conditions as to wages and employment which the miners believed were best for the country.

After nationalization of mines, Mr. Nesson stated, labor intended to nationalize the land, shipping, banking and insurance, and ultimately secure in their hands the whole means of production for a general election in 1922.

In its editorial comments the Liber writes: "President Wilson, who has gained the country's confidence, has given the least regard for national representation, who threw America into the war after winning the election on a peace program, and who dominated over the peace negotiations, returns to a mystic silence to accept his foreign minister of government autocratically during his absence. Isn't that laughable?" Mr. Wilson has given the impression for some days that he is preparing to "change his coat." Isn't Mr. Lansing disgrace the first step?"

How Kolchak Met Death

Was Killed to Prevent His Rescue By White Troops

London.—Admiral Kolchak was executed by the white troops moving in the direction of Irkutsk for that purpose, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Herald. The Moscow Soviet sent a wireless message asking the Herald to complete all the details.

It is thought that Sir Robert will be unable to resume his health, although he has his life, but the appeal was too late.

The Moscow wireless service on January 31 transmitted an extract of an article from the official Bolshevik organ, Pravda, which said:

"On Friday, 'days ago,' Siberian Kolchak was hoisted on his soldiers' bayonets."

Should Make Ex-Kaiser Pay

Aited Noyes Decides People in Old Country Will Insist on Punishment

New York.—Alfred Noyes arrived here on the liner Nieuw Amsterdam. He will spend three months at Princeton University as a member of the faculty.

Mr. Noyes says that there is an intense feeling throughout England that those who had caused all the suffering throughout the war should be made to pay for it, and not allowed to get off scot-free.

"The ex-Kaiser and his son," he continued, "should not be permitted to live in luxury in Holland while the victims of their inactions continue to grope about in mud, all having to pay 50 per cent of their income taxes for the next fifty years as a result of this war. If the former emperor and ex-crown prince cannot be actually punished in their bodies, they should have their incomes reduced to £1,000 and £500 a year respectively."

It is a poor brand of charity that sticks to the fingers.

Canada Insists On Representation In The League

Ottawa.—Peace treaty reservations can only be considered as a consideration in the present case, but there has been no development in the situation. The formal representations made to the imperial authorities fully presented Canada's case in regard to the Len Trots reservation, proposed in the League's report, and it is made clear that Canada would strongly object to the acceptance of any reservations which would in any way affect or impair the status and voting power of Canada in the League. It is only to reservations which would have the effect that they would be taken into account.

The Democrats declared it would help their fight for a modification, however, while the irreconcilable opponents of ratification asserted that it would operate in the end to make acceptance of the treaty more doubtful.

The stand of the Canadian government in regard to voting power has the support of the four overseas governments likewise counted among the original members of the League of Nations. The four are Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and India.

Washington.—Press dispatches say that Canada has asked Great Britain to accept the three reservations proposed by the Canadian element in the United States senate with regard to the voting power of the British Empire, caused some concern in Washington, but there was no evidence that it would seriously modify the old border mounted on a white charge.

The Democrats declared it would help their fight for a modification, however, while the irreconcilable opponents of ratification asserted that it would operate in the end to make acceptance of the treaty more doubtful.

Budapest.—Gen. Denikine will be superseeded in active command of the anti-Bolshevik forces on the southern Russian front by the 30-year-old Gen. Wrangel, it is reported by persons returning from Southern Russia.

Opposition to State Ownership

Object to Nationalisation of Any Industry

London.—After spontaneous discussion of the question of nationalization of mines, the conference of ministers and producers convened by the federation of British industries passed a resolution against a state ownership of industry.

Sir Sam Nesson, vice-president of the Mining Association of Great Britain, said that the resolution, that the meaning of the resolution of miners for nationalization was an effort to seize the vital interests of the community and force out of the community conditions as to wages and employment which the miners believed were best for the country.

After nationalization of mines, Mr. Nesson stated, labor intended to nationalize the land, shipping, banking and insurance, and ultimately secure in their hands the whole means of production for a general election in 1922.

The World's interview concludes as follows: "Sir Sam Nesson said the House would call for another session or two; a federal election to be passed, and arrangements be made for a general election in 1922."

Borden May Retire

Dispatches from England Indicate That Premier's Health Is Far From Bright

Ottawa.—Doubts whether Sir Robert Borden will be able to resume the active premiership has been raised by press dispatches from London. The dispatches indicated that his health is far from bright.

It is said to be the case, his retirement from political life is regarded here as inevitable.

So far the government is without word of Sir Robert's intentions. He left for three or four months' holiday without telling anyone where he went, although it was his intention to accompany Lord Jellicoe to South Africa had Lord Jellicoe gone there.

No official mail is being forwarded to Sir Robert, as it is desired that his health be kept secret, and his life, but the appeal was too late.

The Moscow wireless service on January 31 transmitted an extract of an article from the official Bolshevik organ, Pravda, which said:

"On Friday, 'days ago,' Siberian Kolchak was hoisted on his soldiers' bayonets."

WE ARE Ford Dealers in this district and have formed an estimate of the number of cars we will require to meet the needs of this territory. We cannot get enough cars to fill that estimate because there are not enough cars being made to fill all dealers' estimates throughout Canada.

The number of cars we can get depends upon the number of orders we send in and the early date at which we send them in, as the Ford Shipping Department follows the principle, "First Come, First Served."

Cars ordered now will not be delivered until March, and deliveries will be uncertain throughout the year. If you do not want to wait for summer or autumn delivery, come in and reserve your car by signing an order today.

All Seed Should Be Tested

It is an old saying that all seed should be tested for germination and purity before they are planted. This is just as true to-day as it ever was, and if anything, that truth carries more force than ever. The reason is that grain prices are higher than ever before.

We know that grain products of every kind fetches a higher price than the bulk of it has for many, many years, and indeed, in the cases of some articles such as wheat, the price is almost double what it is to day. All signs point to indicate that this condition will continue for the next few years, and only will the economy gradually as the single factor, but there are other factors which are bound to determine the market value of grain.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The old De Nitry place in Neely proved to be precisely what Ruggles wanted. The high walls, the great rooms, a little kitchen, some fine old trees, a flower garden, a tennis court, stables, and a garage. The house was in excellent condition, which the paper noted, "and roomy studio."

Ruggles was delighted with the place, and lost no time in securing it. But he was quickly informed by his family by Mr. Falconer, an honored friend of Mrs. De Nitry's, standing at the door, that the house had been entirely furnished.

In the meantime, Mr. Falconer called upon Miss Elliot. At first she would not hear of Ruggles's proposition. Darthea's sense of the bizarre induced her to accept him, however, and Miss Challand, rather resentful, Mr. Falconer's suggesting such a thing, pushed the new gentleman aside, her thoughts of her own wretched existence, once well connected as she was, constantly in a state of fear, only open to people of birth and breeding. Miss Challand began to grow pensive.

Applied After Shaving

Keeps the Skin Soft and Smooth

MANY men suffer from irritation of the skin as a result of shaving. With some it assumes a form of eczema and becomes most annoying and unsightly.

By applying a little of Dr. Chase's Ointment after shaving, the irritation is overcome and such ailments as Barber's Itch and Eczema are cured.

60 cents a box, all dealers, or Remond's Stores & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

For one thing, the lease of their apartment was to expire in the autumn, and they had been informed that another would take it. Third, Miss Challand had not been able to find a place where they were going to be able to go to the Park, and Darthea was very loath to leave.

And then the astute old gentleman, down his best card. Darthea was, of course, to go to the Park, and her aunt, and Ruggles, would feel more than compensated for her entertainment. And so, as far as his words such an admirable exponent of what a willfully young lady should do, he said, "I am sure you would consent to become members of the household. Ruggles would place himself at your disposal, and the apartment connected with it. He described the surroundings, and the splendid light, and the quiet beauty of the gardens.

Darthea still had been her chief hobby. It cramped and stifled her. During the winter, there were many whole days when she had not the light of question in the studio there were other considerations which indicated Darthea's desire to leave.

One was that she knew her aunt to be depriving herself of many necessary comforts, and that she might not lack for the materials required in her work, such as good coffee, caucuses, bread, and the like, which were regular articles of quality. Miss Challand stoutly averred that she felt much better without the studio, and that she had the time to give her to her hobby.

It was evident that her aunt had not been able to get along normally, and the girl ascribed this to the need of the proper amount of rest.

The hope of selling a picture alone had prevented her from economizing.

The older and lesser consideration was that Darthea had begun to find his dead mother's ways, and that, despite what artists claim, Darthea, being young and full-blooded, had enjoyed the recreations of sport, and was, therefore, intensely interested in Ruggles and his unusual household, and could not help affect the direction of the obtained from being a member of such an unusual menage.

So, after many long and intricate arguments, the two ladies gave their official acceptance of Ruggles's proposal, and he was installed in the comfortable pavilion of the De Nitry place.

At the same time, Miss Elliot, with her four interesting charges, arrived in Paris, to be met at the station by the man with the ear, Ruggles preferring to welcome the party at the house.

He had also in his suite Selim, that impudent, fat, bold and courteous, Sarah, and a little ladie's maid, the youngest, origin.

Ruggles had been a bit disengaged immediately with Miss Elliot, and then, as Ruggles dangled their slim hands to the amazement of Ruggles, thought the girls were to be married.

"Four more servants required," Ruggles said, "and then Miss Elliot and I will be happy to have our home to ourselves."

"Ruggles, we're to be married?" Ruggles asked, with some of her habitual brinkiness.

"Yes—then baby can walk and talk," said Miss Elliot, smiling. "Ruggles had been a bit disengaged immediately with Miss Elliot, and then, as Ruggles dangled their slim hands to the amazement of Ruggles, thought the girls were to be married."

BEAVER BOARD
FOR BETTER WALLS & CEILINGS

"You Can't Expect Beaver Board Results Unless This Trade-mark is on the Back of the Board You Buy."

Look for it. Be sure this mark is on the back of every panel of wall board you buy.

All wall board is not Beaver Board. Like every other product it is limited, and while some of these imitations may look like Beaver Board they can never act like Beaver Board.

To be sure of lasting wall and ceiling satisfaction look for the Bassano Board trademark on the back of every panel of wallboard you buy.

E. P. Currie was a business visitor to Calgary this week.

Service will be held in the Anglican Church on Sunday next at 7:30 p.m.

Regular Meeting of the War
Veterans will be held at the Alberta
Hotel on Sunday Feb. 29th at 3 p.m.

Special rehearsal for the Musical Society's concert will be held on Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church at 4 p.m. Every member urged to make extra effort to attend.

In the current issue of the Gazette are registered the following appointments: Official Assignee, H. W. Ford; Notary Public, W.
McLaws; Commissioner for Oaths,
A. McGregor.

It is common report that a new and very extensive store is to be opened in town shortly on the "Cash and Carry" principle. We do not vouch for its authenticity but there appears to be no reason to doubt it.

From all accounts the Sunday afternoon concert which is to be given by the Musical Society on March 1st will be a really great musical treat. The Musical director is working overtime to make its success assured.

The authority which Mr. Beck's experience on agricultural matters gives him will ensure the严肃 consideration of all our readers of his articles which will appear every week in the "Mail," the first of which appears this week.

Someone's ways taking the joy out of life - when the boys had made all their plans for the most beautiful "home warming" party for J. Matheson, the Bank of Commerce transferred him to Nipawin Bank. He is succeeded by A. N.
Roop who was previously asso-ciant at Beverly.

The Brooks Curling Club entered a bunch of Bassano devotees to the Rearing Game on Friday and handed out a trimming to one team and a close shave to the other. All the boys who made the trip are most anxious to get our rink under way at once.

The next meeting of the Bassano
U.E.A. will be held on Saturday March 6th, and promises to be a most interesting meeting. Every member has been advised of the purposes of this meeting and there should be a record attendance with splendid results.

We have always contended that our Bassano sports are the genuine stuff, but the recent outbreak of peevishness and poor circulation of the real sporting spirit in the Bowling Tournament makes us wonder whether our diagnosis was accurate.
Get together boys like Spartan and not as little children.

We regret to record the death of Mrs. Fey George which occurred on Saturday, February 21st at Hutton, after a very brief illness.
Mrs. George is survived by her husband and three children to whom the sympathy of their many friends is extended. Mrs. T.
Evans, Mrs. W. Caldwell and Mrs.
Wright were sisters of the deceased lady, who was born at Kortes, Neb. thirty-one years ago. The interment took place at Bassano on Wednesday.

Curtiss Aeromobile

IS IN TOWN

What is it? It is a Talking Machine, but not like any one you have heard previously.
It is designed and made by Curtiss Aerplanes and Motors Ltd., the firm that built so many aeroplanes for the British and Allied Governments.

They say it is "the last word in Talking Machines" and we agree with them.

But there is nothing we can say here that will be half so convincing to you as seeing it and hearing it yourself. So come in and let us demonstrate it to you. We will be pleased to demonstrate it whether you buy or not.
